CLEAN UP.

THE CITY beautiful is a slogan that any city, town or village might be proud to have attributed to it and any city or town that can rightly boast of having such a slogan has something that it not only worth dollars and cents and many of them but has something that can be prized higher than mere money.

At one time Klamath Falls was imbued with the City Beautiful movement which was backed strong then by a women's organization of the city. As a result some good work was accomplished and one monument has stood until this day, that of the paper and refuse cans along the street.

Chief of Police Baldwin is an advocate of the City Beautiful idea so far at least as keeping the alleys, streets, vacant lots and other property cleaned up so as to be respectable. And for this he is to be highly commended.

The city charter provides that unsightly places which become nuisances shall be ordered cleaned up and leaves the judgment as to the extent of the nuisance to the Chief of Police. It provides that he shall notify the property owner and if the place is not cleaned up within five days a notice shall be posted in a conspicuous place on the property stating the facts of the law and then if proper action is not taken the offender may be haled into court and fined.

The chief has been working for several weeks now and finds a general good feeling and willingness to remedy these defects wherever he happens to find them. Yet some do not take the proper attitude and want to see Jim Jones next door or down the street ten or fifteen blocks away clean up his place first. If all took this attitude we would have a fine appearing city. Everybody would be waiting for the next man and practically none would do the work.

It is up to every person to show enough civic pride and love for their community to see that the chief's requests are promptly attended to and beat him to it if we can.

Another thing or two that the people of Klamath Falls should pay more attention to and observe is the putting in and attending to of nice appearing lawns, trees and shrubbery. Nothing appeals to a stranger within our gates so strongly as well kept lawns, properly located trees and a general neat and attractive appearance about the homes. It denotes thrift, good business and a general whole-hearted, clean-minded spirit throughout a community. If we do not find them there is given an impression of something else that we do not believe Klamath people as a whole are afflicted with.

GOOD FOR KLAMATH FALLS!

THE CITIZENSHIP of Klamath Falls is again to the front in the matter of showing loyalty to the community and readiness to unite on right lines for the best interests of the city and county. This was demonstrated in a splendid manner yesterday when the busy men of the city volunteered to give of their time and service in the work of creating for Klamath Falls such a commercial organization as will be a credit to the city and enable the community to do the things needful for the up-building of the whole people.

The men present at the White Pelican yesterday were from among the successful business men of the city, and were quick to see the advantage possessed by the new form of organization for the Commercial Club as set forth at that luncheon. That they so readily expressed their willingness to give some time and work to the building up of the proposed commercial body gives encouragement to the directors and re-organization committee to continue in their efforts to secure for Klamath Falls an organization which will be referred to by all as a model, not only in form and system of operation but also in achievement for the community.

The endorsement of the plan by A. L. Mills, one of the leading financiers of the Northwest and one thoroughly in touch with the organization plans, is a very strong factor in support of the movement which the committee has undertaken, and serves to give to the financial interests of the community additional confidence in the re-organization program which has already received their endorsement.

The attitude of Portland toward this community, and the readiness of the Portland Chamber of Commerce to co-operate with the Klamath Commercial Club as soon as it is re-organized on the right lines, as proposed, and ready to give united support to a systematic development program, as expressed by Mr. Mills in his remarks at the luncheon, and as further enlarged upon by him in private conversation with some of our citizens, is a matter of the greatest moment to all this section. It means that Klamath Falls will, under the new plans, have the backing of the powerful Portland organization in all its large undertakings for the development of this section. It only remains for us to make of the Commercial Club the right kind and the large organization it should be, and launch it upon a definite constructive work, broad in scope and comprehensive in character, ready to unite with others of like mind and character in promoting work for the good of all.

Scattered Shots

CHIEF BALDWIN is on the trail of speeders and if you don't watch out he will get you.

KLAMATH HAS the stuff. How do we know?

IT HAS BEEN demonstrated too many times before it was demonstrated yesterday at the luncheon at the Pelican.

IF YOU GET jumped on by the Chief of Police or the City Health Officer for having a nuisance lurking around your place, take it like a man.

IT MAY HAVE been there so long that you have become used to it. But another person will notice it.

GREEN GRASS, trees and good sidewalks denote good people, good homes, a prosperous community and contentment.

HOW DOES Klamath stack up?

Sport dopists of Medford lost their sarcasm but lay the winning of the game to everything but Klamath's good team.

WE HAVE another game with them later this season—here.

What the War Moves Mean

BY J. W. T. MASON
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, July 21—Great Britain is at last forced to come to grips with trade unionism and its revolts, because of the war. For months the government authorities have evaded labor's frequent challenges. Military discipline is now necessary to prevent a coal famine. Not only are the munitions factories dependent upon a constant supply of coal but a shortage would seriously cripple the navy. The government is now forced for the sake of self-preservation to compel the miners to end the wage strike.

The point at issue is not the increased wage itself but the manner of application. The operators are willing to pay more but because of the unusual conditions accompanying the war, ask that the advance be temporary in the form of a war bonus. The miners rejected this proposal and demand that the increased wage be made permanent and effective immediately. The miners refuse to mediate thus inviting conflict with the government regulation that industrial troubles must be submitted for arbitration. The situation is all the more serious because the miners are the aristocrats of unionism. They are regarded as the most powerful union in all England. The miner workers receive the highest average wage paid any organized working class. The union has long possessed a privileged position in labor circles.

The union which includes 150,000 workers is made up of hardy men who have grown accustomed to over-awing the weaker trade unions. The miners expect to wage their fight on the enticing basis that the outcome of this struggle will determine the future of trade unionism in England. If the allied unions can be forced to join in on a sympathetic strike, the miners believe that the government will be compelled to reopen the mines by hastening an award favorable to the workers irrespective of the merits of the controversy. Perhaps the miners are working for this hoping to win a great union victory greater than any other in the history of organized labor in England.

MEN MATURED ARE STUDENTS

SUMMER SCHOOL NOTABLE, ACCORDING TO DIRECTOR, FOR NUMBER OF MEN IN PRIME OF LIFE WHO REGISTERED

(Herald Special Service)

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, July 21.—In spite of the Panama fair, which was expected to lure away many prospective students, and leave the university of Oregon Summer session with a decrease in attendance, the students have been coming in at a rate which has broken all records both for size and for rapidity of increase.

"This is a mature student body," said Dr. Joseph Schafer, director of the summer session. "I estimate that the men students average more than thirty years of age. There is an extraordinary number of county and city superintendents and high school principals among them."

Among the special features of the Summer School will be the Sixth Annual Oregon Educational Conference, and the Third Annual Oregon Inter-denominational Conference of Ministers.

The enrollment of the summer school on the fourth day was 165. Last year's high water mark, reached later in the session, was 144 students.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

What's the matter with having some action. Vote for A. J. Lyle for mayor. Just try me.—16 adv.
